EAJRS 2012 in Berlin: system of special collections in Germany: nationwide cooperation of libraries

- ➔ established in 1949
- ➔ funded by German Research Foundation
- ➔ idea: at least one copy of each important academic book should be available in Germany
- ➔ coordinated nationwide acquisition plan according to subject/region
- ➔ 3 national specialised libraries and 23 state libraries / regional libraries / university libraries
- system was evaluated and adjusted to current needs of academic community
- change to specialist information services for researchers „Fachinformationsdienste für die Wissenschaft“ FID
- application for funding necessary

xasia

gradual change:

libraries in charge of special collections divided into groups
2015: application year for libraries with regional special collections

so far:

„Sondersammelgebiet Ost- und Südostasien“
special collection for materials from and about East and Southeast Asia (social sciences and humanities)

application for FID:

„CrossAsia – Fachinformationsdienst Asien“

„CrossAsia – Specialist Information Service Asia“

→ joint application with the University Library / South Asia Institute of Heidelberg University

→ regions: East / Southeast / South Asia

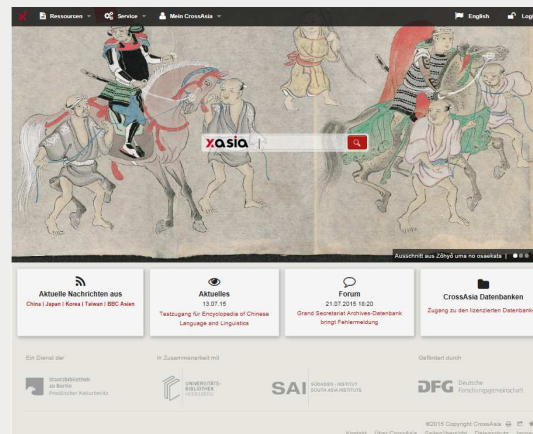

→ decision pending: notification in December 2015!

new framework for the FID system

- ⇒ System based on academic disciplines versus regional definition of "FID Asia"
- ⇒ Acquisition according to current needs (no comprehensive collection)
- ⇒ No limitation concerning publication year or type of media
- ⇒ E-only-policy (e-resources have priority)
- ⇒ Permanent access rights for databases required
- ⇒ Close contact to academic community, development of services with and for the academic community
- ⇒ No fulfillment of basic needs, but creation of a value-added service
- ⇒ Funding period: 3 years, reduction of funding rate from 75% to 66%

Future projects in cooperation with University Library / South Asia Institute of Heidelberg University

- ➔ Merger of the platforms Savifa and CrossAsia
- ➔ Profiled collection building
- ➔ E-publishing (open access)
- ➔ Optimization of CrossAsia Search
- ➔ Development of an infrastructure for meta and fulltext data (only for resources in Western languages, Chinese, South Asian texts)
- ➔ Contact to academic community and public relations

xasia

Future projects

- ➔ Profiled collection building
  - Print and e-resources (Japan: academic books in print format)
  - Focus on current needs of academic community (humanities, social sciences, new fields of study)
  - Economics included (cooperation with German National Library of Economics, Kiel)
  - Simplification of acquisition requests via the CrossAsia Search (patron driven acquisition)
  - “Digitization on Demand” service to supplement Blue ILL (copyright-free material)

xasia

Future projects

- ➔ E-publishing (open access)
  - Experiences of the University Library / South Asia Institute of Heidelberg University
  - CrossAsia Repository for electronic journals (Open Journal System)
  - CrossAsia E-Books platform (Open Monograph Press)
  - Publication of new e-publications, transformation of print journals, reprint of books that are out of stock
  - Open access aggregator for reviews of books related to Asia (cooperation with recensio.net)

xasia

Future projects

- ➔ Contact to academic community and public relations
  - Contact with users (telephone, email, CrossAsia Forum, CrossAsia Newsletter)
  - User guidances, provision of “how-to-movies” for selected resources
  - Establishment of academic advisory board
  - Workshop for evaluation of the FID service
  - International exchange:
    - European Association of Japanese Resource Specialists (EAJRS)
    - European Association for Japanese Studies (EAJS)
    - Japan Specialist Workshop (NDL, Tokyo)
    - Library Fair & Forum (Yokohama)

Digitale Sammlungen

Zugang zu den verschiedenen digitalisierten Sammlungen im Kontext der Sondersammelgebiete Ost- und Südostasien sowie Südasien.

Ostasien | Zentralasien | Südostasien | Südasien

SSG 6,25 Digital

Die Ostasienabteilung der Staatsbibliothek zu Berlin hat begonnen ausgewählte Teile ihrer Bestände zu digitalisieren. Das von der DFG geförderte Projekt umfasst fünf Teile mit originalsprachlichen Materialien: die tibetischen Texte der Sammlung Waddell, die mandchurische Sammlung, die alte Japan-Sammlung, die alte China-Sammlung und die Sammlung Hainich. Als besonderer Teil werden die über 4000 Titel an westlichsprachigen Beständen mit Ostasienbezug bis zum Publikationsjahr 1912 digitalisiert. Teile der Digitalisate sind in der Datenbank der Staatsbibliothek zu Berlin verfügbar. Weitere Informationen zum Projekt finden Sie auf der Website der Ostasienabteilung.
