

Japanese Studies in the Arab World: Dried Present and Future Prospects

BY:
HABIB ALBADAWI

Geographical Aspects

Map of the Islamic World

Historical Review of the Arab-Japanese Relations

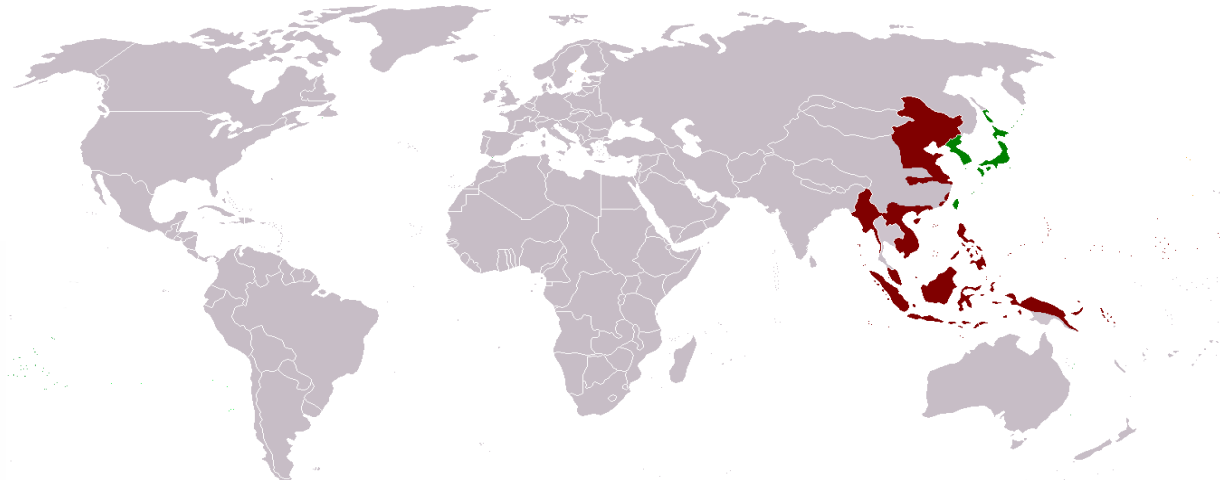

1- The Arab Fascination by the Orient Japanese Empire (1904-1945)

Russo-Japanese war 1904-1905

2- Mutual Neglect 1945 – 1973

Empire of Great Japan Dai Nippon Teikoku

3- Japanese Interest in the Arab world after the Global Oil Crisis 1973

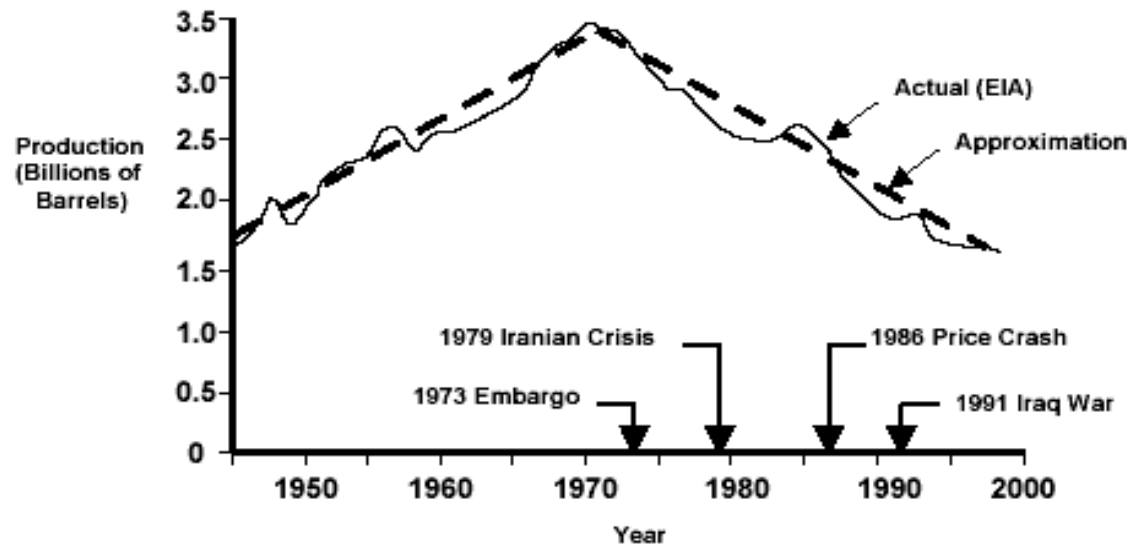

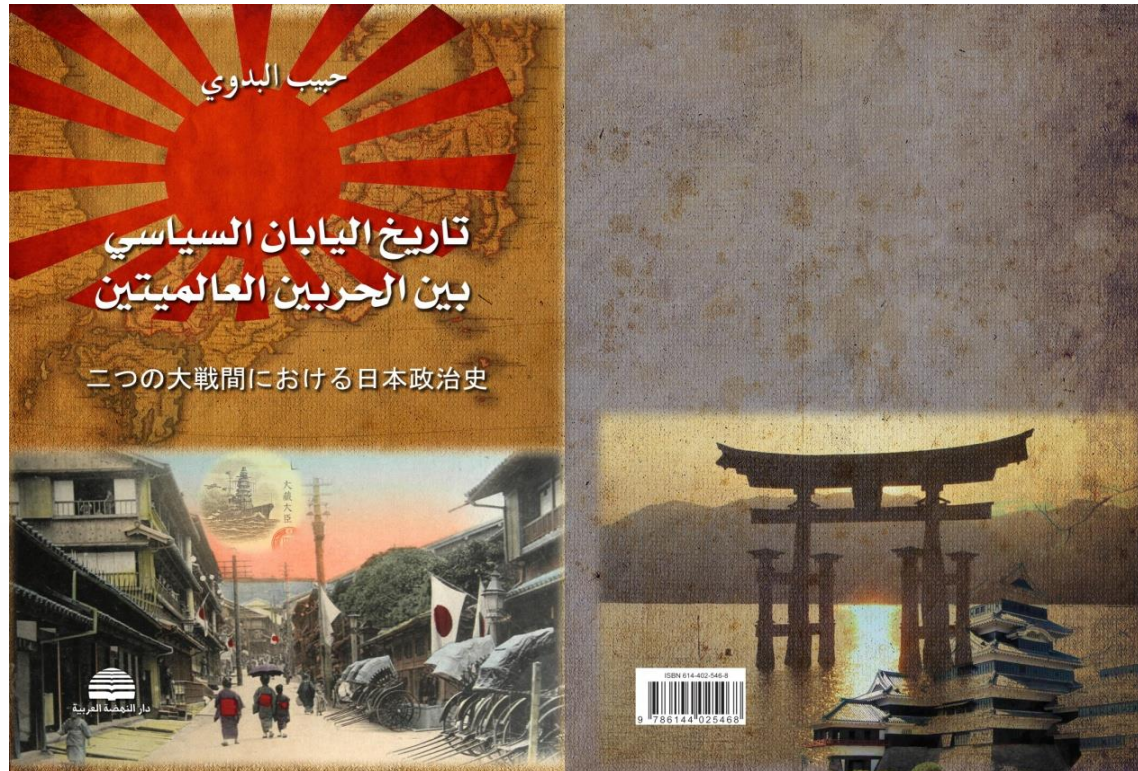

Figure II-2. U.S. Lower 48 Oil Production, 1945-2000

Japanese Studies Japanology in the Arab World

تاريخ اليابان السياسي بين الحربين العالميتين

futatsu no tainsen kan noikeru Nippon seiji shi

二つの大戦間における日本政治史

The Political History of Japan between the Two World Wars

(ISBN 978 – 614 – 402 – 555 - 0)

Arabic Publications about Japan

Bibliography Table

Category	Number of Publications	Percentages
Translated Books (mainly from English and French)	73	51%
General Books (without documentation)	40	27 %
Academic Books	12	8%
Travel Guides	8	6%
Conferences Releases	7	5%
Language Manuals	5	3%

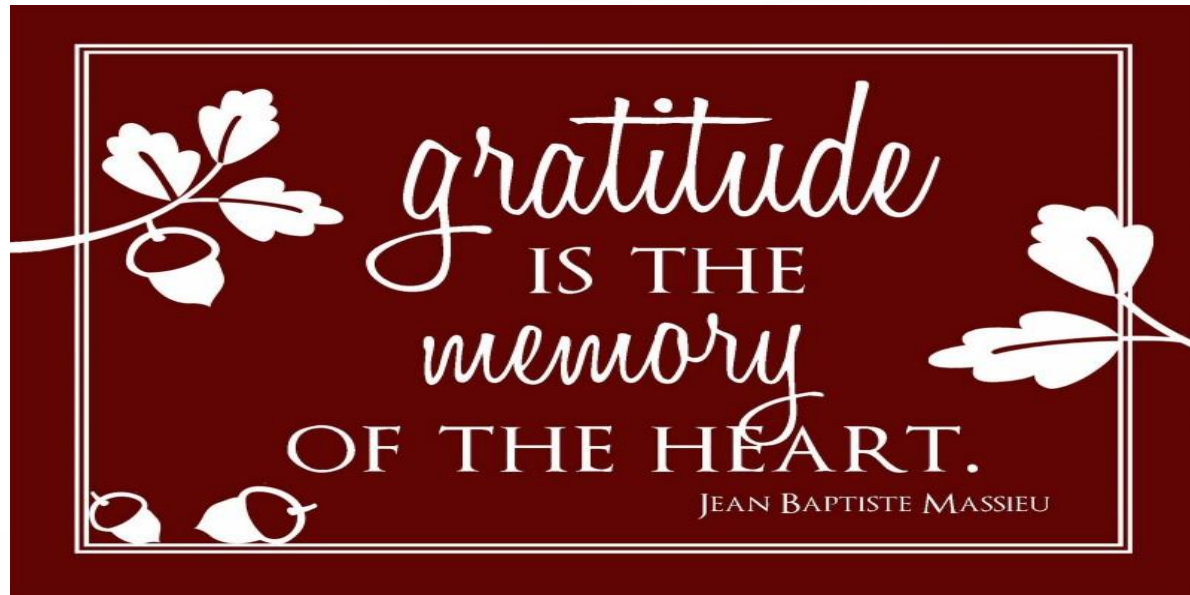

Obstacles facing promoting Japanese Studies in the Arab World

Future Prospects for the Japanese Studies in the Arab World

Acknowledgments

In timeline order:

Keiko Yokota-Carter (University of Michigan)

Stephen Vlastos (University of Iowa)

Betty Unterberger[1922-2012](Texas A&M University)

Charles Ziegler (University of Louisville)

Frances Rosenbluth (Yale University)

Antony Boussemart (Ecole française d'Extrême-Orient)

Kaoru Baba (Collège de France)

Dōmo arigatō